RELAXING ESCAPES

► Seclusion and romance in the south of France

La Maison d'Ulysse is a small luxury hotel located in the South of France, near Uzès, Nîmes and Avignon. Set in a lovingly restored 16th-century building, the hotel is hidden away in French countryside with only nine rooms, making it ideal for honeymooners looking for seclusion and romance. Foodies will especially love the La Maison d'Ulysse's restaurant, where summer meals accompanied by homegrown fruit and vegetables are served outside on the cool patio. As well as being surrounded by stunning gardens, the hotel includes a vaulted spa and Turkish baths, as well as a solar-panel heated outdoor pool.

◀ Ultimate relaxation in Fiji

Authentically Fijian, luxurious, pristine and unspoiled, Vomo is a private paradise island in the South Pacific. Remote, award-winning and blissfully dreamy, Vomo is fringed by 5km of dazzlingly white sand and crystal-clear azure waters as far as the eye can see. 28 newly refurbished luxurious villas and four stunning three and four bedroomed villas, nestled among 225 acres of lush, green vegetation, guarantee privacy. Newly weds can escape to the nearby island of Vomo Laili (Little Vomo) for the day and the whole island is theirs to enjoy! A two-way radio is provided, should they run out of Champagne!

► Sailing at Knai Bang Chatt, Cambodia

In April 2017, Cambodia's first official sailing club opened at Knai Bang Chatt, a chic boutique hotel located in Kep – a relatively undiscovered beach destination on Cambodia's south coast. The hotel is the first in Cambodia to be recognised as internationally sustainable and has a genuine connection to the local community and environment. The Knai Bang Chatt Sailing Club offer guests a wide range of sailing courses. Following the guidelines of the Royal Yacht Club Association, instructors at the sailing club have undergone extensive training and are now qualified to deliver beginner to advanced courses on a range of newly purchased boats to guests, locals and expats.

◀ A foodie haven: Anguilla

A favourite destination for celebrity A-Listers due to its remote location, the tiny Caribbean island of Anguilla is the perfect spot for a honeymoon hideaway. It may be small, at just 17 miles from top to bottom, but it boasts 33 picture postcard beaches. Aside from the beaches, Anguilla is a haven for foodies. There are no chains on the island, just a number of independent restaurants and beach shacks serving up delicious cuisine from all over the world. The island is peppered with chic boutique hotels, so you will be spoilt for choice if you decide that this beautiful Caribbean island is for you.
